CHILDREN MARCH IN MATTAPOISETT'S ANNUAL HALLOWEEN PARADE, SPONSORED BY THE MATTAPOISETT POLICE DEPARTMENT. PHOTOS, DCJ

The streets in Mattapoisett Village were alive with all sorts of creatures last Thursday night as the annual Halloween Parade and Party, sponsored by the Mattapoisett Police Department, was held.

Hundreds of children marched to a band and aided by members of the police department carrying flares. The parade ended at the Center School where judging of the costumes took place, and candy was distributed to all the marchers.

Selectmen's Meeting

OCTOBER 29, 1985 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

DRAW JURORS NAMES FOR LAST TIME

The necessity for Selectmen to draw names for jury duty came to an end last Tuesday when jurors were drawn for the December session. Beginning in January, Plymouth County will join other Massachusetts counties in the one day/one trial jury system, sometimes called the Middlesex System.

Informed of the impending change last December, Town Clerk Lois Ennis had until June of this year to prepare an accurate and timely resident list to be computerized for selecting jurors. This will remove a time consuming burden from the Selectmen's office.

The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court adopted the recommendation of the Jury Management Advisory Committee to expand the jury system to Norfolk and Plymouth Counties. All counties in the Commonwealth will gradually be phased in by January 1, 1988. The system will eliminate all exemptions from jury service, thereby allowing every citizen the opportunity to serve as a juror. When a person's name appears on a computerized list, he must report to the county courthouse to be chosen to serve for one trial or released after one day.

Employers are required to pay workers for the first three days of jury duty, thereby saving the commonwealth an estimated $1.5 million a year. The system eliminates job-related exemptions for police, firefighters and others who say that jury duty would interfere with their work. Jury disqualifications are allowed only for people over age 70 who choose not to serve, non-English speaking people, those mentally or physically incapable of serving and recent felons.

The following names were drawn to serve at the criminal/civil session at Brockton on December 2, 1985: Joseph R. Carrier, 9 Gosnold Street; Mary D. Fish, 136 Brandt Island Road; and Merritt G. LaPlante, 10 Long Plain Road.

The mahogany box from which the names have been drawn since 1861 has been handled by many selectmen and town clerks since it was made by the first town clerk, Thomas Nelson. Nelson served from the town's incorporation in 1857 until 1873.

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH James Davidian of Marion and Milton, successful bidder of the Church Street Deniz property at the October 5th town auction, to discuss the work he has been doing on the house, even though legal paper work has not been completed. Selectmen were notified by Town Counsel Donald Fleming that this action by Davidian could pose a liability problem for the town as the town is still the legal owner. Davidian said he expected to close the sale in about two weeks and Selectmen voted to allow him a two weeks' extension on the terms of the sale agreement.

Davidian said he has had some cement work done on the front steps so as to get it done before cold weather, has cleaned debris on the outside, cleaned up the interior, repaired windows to prevent vandalism and put up curtains to make it look nicer.

Selectman James Huntoon said to Davidian "the problem is if anything should happen to either you or to a workman, the town would be liable." He recommended Davidian talk to his insurance agent to consider adding a rider to his policy covering his other two properties. "We have to follow town counsel's advice to protect the town", said Huntoon.

Davidian said, "I understand your problem and concerns. I guess I overstepped my bounds, but I'm not sorry I repaired the windows to prevent vandalism, even if you are angry." He agreed to check with his insurance agent, then with town counsel.

AGREED TO NAME Fire Chief Donald Wood municipal coordinator and Board of Health Chairman Evelyn A. Ellis as assistant coordinator to cover the town's obligations in the new state Right-to-Know Law.

The Right-to-Know Law calls for towns to delegate someone who is familiar with chemicals used in the towns and places of employment and have a list of such chemicals and hazardous substances that employees may come in contact with on their job and what to do in the event there is an accident.

MET WITH Robert M. Coquillette, chairman of the town's Council on Aging, to discuss projects the council has been working on recently. The chairman expressed thanks to Town Clerk Lois Ennis for preparing a list of persons over the age of 60 from which the council is seeking to determine the specific needs of certain seniors and ways in which to help them.

Coquillette also noted the council should have 11 members; however, there are two vacancies at this time. Anyone interested in becoming a member should contact Mr. Coquillette at the Council Office at Town Hall.

He reported on the success last year of the Fuel Assistance Program conducted by PACE which, he said, serviced 108 persons in Mattapoisett and 7,400 in Greater Coquillette reported on an Outreach Program supervised by Nancy Fleming and Vivianne Surprenant that is working well. He said the only program that has had problems is the surplus food commodities. "It's not that there is a lack of food that's the problem, but it's that the state funds haven't been sufficient to administer the distribution. There may be butter and cheese available by the middle of November."

Selectman John DeCosta told Coquillette the board is quite pleased with the job he is doing at the council. Selectman James Huntoon expressed appreciation saying, "It's nice you take the time to report to us." Selectman Frank Suzan said, speaking on behalf of Dennis Mahoney fuel supplier, PACE is conducting the program efficiently. "In many cases", he said, "this assistance allows seniors to keep their homes."

RECEIVED WORD from American Cablesystems of price increases that will become effective in November and December. Also, as of November 1, Cable Channel 16 will become Superstation WGN Channel 9 from Chicago. This is an added value to the basic service at no additional charge, the company letter noted.

Effective November 1, Sports Channel will be located on Cable Channel 36. To offset this addition, the cost of the Satellite Tiers will be increased from $6. to $6.50 per month, effective December 1. Stephen Grossman, general manager, wrote, "over the last two years we have received several inquiries concerning the availability of Sports Channel, and we are delighted to be able to offer this unique opportunity to our customers." Effective December 1, HBO Channel 25 will be increased from $7.50 to $8. per month. Grossman noted American Cablesystems' price of HBO is far below what most other cable systems are charging.

RECEIVED WORD from John Oliveira, superintendent of Old Colony Regional Vocational High School, that the district school committee on October 16 voted to accept a professional development grant. The grant is for the purpose of supplementing teacher compensation at the school.

Oliveira noted articles will be placed on the town warrants of each member town to vote to accept the action taken by the district school committee.

READ A LETTER sent by Building Inspector David Crook to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold O. Putnam of 50 Ocean Drive in which he responded to their letter concerning the condition of the property of Conrad Roy, 56 Ocean Drive.

Crook advised the Putnams that Roy has complied with the town's request with regards to the screening of his property. Other matters concerning Mr. Roy are being pursued. The Putnams felt there are signs of slipping into the disarray of the past, and that the situation needs monitoring

PAY ATTENTION TO DIRECTIONS

Always make sure that you clearly understand exactly how you are to take your medications. And this applies equally to those medications you can purchase without a prescription as well as those that your doctor prescirbes for you. It is vitally important that you know and follow the proper directions for their use.

If you ever have any questions about any of the medications you use—how they should be taken or what time of the day they should be taken or if it is safe to take them at the same time you take other medications—you can call us. Knowing about drugs and medicines is our professional specialty, and you are welcome to avail yourself of our services at any time.

We have just received the circular on the annual Christmas Festival at Edaville, New England's largest outdoor attraction with its 180,000 twinkling lights and fascinating Christmas displays -- a fairy-tale setting right out of a Currier and Ives Christmas card. Seniors are admitted for half price ($3.00). If you would like to go call our office and leave your name and telephone number, and also state whether you would like to eat out afterwards. The trip includes the 5 mile train ride and must be made in late afternoon or early evening, and in November.

Harold has not been successful in getting a driver or a date with the Fine Arts Museum for a trip to the Renoir Exhibit. He may end up just sending a bus in when he can, whether we get the special Senior price or not. Those who signed up will be notified by telephone.

There will be a trip to Hyannis Tuesday, November 12th.

the greater New Bedford area in the late 1800s by the French-Canadians, is a fine blend of Ceylon and China teas. It was sold this past summer in the Museum and at Harbor Days, and is now available at these locations: Babette and Cerulli's in The Ropewalk, Rogers Gallery and Framery, Pure and Simple, and at Ansel Gurney's in Marion. It is also available by calling Priscilla Hathaway (758-3579) or Bette Roberts (758-2654). The tea, at $3.50 per 4 ounce package, makes a fine stocking stuffer, hostess gift, or Mattapoisett remembrance. All profits go to the Building Fund.

And now to taxes: while the official Capital Fund Drive has been completed, having reached our goal of $20,000, contributions may still be made toward the furnishings and fixtures for the resource/research room in the new wing - and all contributions are tax deductible.

The Museum is closed for the winter, but the work and planning by the Board of Directors goes on. Watch the Presto Press for announcements of activities.

Mattapoisett Outreach

The Outreach Program of the Council on Aging had an informal get-together at the Mattapoisett Town Hall last week to review their past activities and to remind our citizens of the services and the resource persons available to the community.

The Outreach Program was started by the Council on Aging about 4 or 5 years ago. It is a ministry of service by local people to the elderly and those in need. The volunteers make home visits, telephone reassurance calls, hospital visits at both St. Luke's and Tobey Hospitals.

Some of our volunteers are involved in Hospice program, in Alternative Care, in making Podiatry care available locally, and in FISH, the Mattapoisett Transportation program. Alternative Care is a program that seeks host families who are willing to welcome an elderly person to live with them as a foster grandparent. There is reim-

Here's how Chiropractic treats Overweight

Few people realize that there is a relationship between disturbed metabolism and overweight. The doctor of chiropractic applies his procedure to achieve balanced functioning of the organs of the body.

Doctors of chiropractic also know that balanced nutrition is one of the most important elements necessary to losing weight in a safe and stable manner. Likewise, it is important to the functional health and recuperative ability of the body.

That is why the doctor of chiropractic utilizes dietary management as part of his/her regular health care procedure. If weight loss is desirable, it will be recommended, based on a program which avoids shock to your system.

STUDENTS STUDY CRANBERRY INDUSTRY
VISIT MATTAPOISETT BOG

Earlier this month Miss Aiken's fourth grade class traveled by bus to Tinkham-town and then hiked through the woods to Tinkham's cranberry bog.

Miss Aiken's class has been studying how important the cranberry industry is to the economy of Massachusetts. Therefore, Nancy and Howard Tinkham invited the class to view first-hand the process of dry picking the cranberry. Mr. Tinkham explained how the western picker was used. Mrs. Tinkham demonstrated the process of using the handscoop. The children were allowed to try. Ugh! was the most common response. Miss Aiken explained how the hopper separated the chaff from the berries. She also took the children for a

OLD HAMMONDTOWN SCHOOL
GETS A VERY SPECIAL VISITOR

Tim Jennings, a very talented story teller, recently visited Old Hammondtown School. He entertained all of the students, teachers, even Mr. Reed the principal.

Tim told traditional stories both funny and in most places suspenseful. His stories kept the entire audience in stitches. His magic tricks amazed the children and the rope tricks were very good. He played a jig and some other songs on his accordion-like instrument called the concertina. The children thought it was excellent. Tim enjoys telling stories, doing tricks and playing music for others.

We really enjoyed Tim Jennings' performance. It delighted us so much we couldn't take our eyes off him.

REPRESENTATIVE FROM PLIMOTH PLANTATION TO VISIT CENTER SCHOOL

On Tuesday, November 12th, a representative from Plimoth Plantation will present their Native American Program to each of the third grade classes. This program will highlight the way of life of the native people (the Wampanoag Indians) who lived in the vicinity of Plymouth Colony in 1627. The program portrays daily life in a Wampanoag dwelling. Through hands-on activities and role-playing, students will experience life in an Indian family. Emphasis will be placed on how responsibilities were apportioned and how interdependence contributed to survival.

The Mattapoisett Parent-Teachers' Club is sponsoring and funding this program to parallel and enrich the third grade curriculum.

Classroom visits are scheduled for 9:30, 10:30 and 1:00.

RETIREMENT DINNER

Mary DeMoranville, Resource Room Director in Center School, is retiring at the end of December. Girl Scout Cookie Time!

Girl Scouting is focused exclusively on the welfare of girls. It highlights environmental and career education, physical sciences, sports, and mainstreaming the disabled. It is built on the same foundation as established by the Founder (in 1912), Juliette Gordon Low, to help girls develop values, live within an ethical code, and to develop self-confidence and character. The Plymouth Bay Council, part of the United Way Agency, serves 1 out of every 7 southeastern Massachusetts girls between the ages of 6 and 17, and has just begun to serve 5 year-old girls.

Marion, Mattapoisett, and Rochester Girl Scouts will be taking orders November 1 through 11. Anyone wishing to place an order and has not yet been contacted may do so by calling the newly appointed area co-cookie chairpersons, Dot at 763-8376, or Louise at 295-8076.

A Christmas Carol

INTRODUCING SOME CHARACTERS

Dickens' London was liberally sprinkled with bonafide scene stealers like these characters...shrewd, whimsical, street-wise, downright funny...all entertaining ...a butcher (Tom Grondski), a toymaker (Vern Taylor), and 2 very proper gentlemen (Lenny Gonsalves and Dave Hagen). Watch them transform the Old Rochester stage into a "Dickensian" fantasyland as they lend their considerable talents to A CHRISTMAS CAROL production. To be presented at Old Rochester Regional High School on December 13, 14 and 15, tickets are available at all schools or by calling 758-4928.

Review: SMU Theatre

"ABSURD PERSON SINGULAR"
by DAVID B. BOYCE

The contemporary master of comedies which point up the British way of life, Alan Ayckbourn's prolific out-put includes "The Norman Conquests", "Bedroom Farce" and "Absurd Person Singular", among many others. His ability to capture the dry nonchalance so unique to our English cousins makes for heavy doses of hilarity.

"Absurd Person Singular" is the second offering by the SMU Theatre Company for their 1985-86 season and while the production values fall short of those attained in their first production, "Amadeus", nonetheless, it is a very funny evening.

While the material is indeed humorous, much of it depends on the usage of British vernacular, accent and the particular penchant the Brits exhibit in remaining unruffled in the most absurd situations. This SMU cast is very uneven in their attempts and non-attempts at emulating English accents. The effect is detrimental to the production, as so many of Ayckbourn's observations are based on the accents and speech patterns of his subjects.

Despite this, there are some wonderful moments. Briefly, the three acts could easily be one-acts, related by the shared characters and their predicaments. Act I unfolds in the kitchen of Sidney and Jane, a bossy land developer and his subservient wife. Terrance Moriarty, as Sidney, is appropriately energetic and demanding as a rather callous social climber. Donna Geller is Jane, an unliberated wife who is the embodiment of TV commercial housewives, amazed at the efficiency of household products. The ill-advised choice of having her speak in a falsetto register makes for an often unintelligible delivery with grating overtones. Her characterization however is effectively accurate.

Patti Hathaway plays Marion, the tippling wife of banker Ronald (Samuel Belanger). Her love of drink grows through the first two acts until she blossoms full in the last. Ms. Hathaway well plays the overtly correct matron in Act I, simply enthralled by Jane's kitchen appliances in an effort to make a quick end of the evening. In Act II, she is a schmoozily amiable presence. But in Act III she downplays the comedy, opting for a more serious approach.

After her entrance in Act III, Marion relates how while on her voyage downstairs to the kitchen, she saw her visage in a hall mirror. "Do you know what I saw? My face!" It should have been a comedic highlight as well as a reminder of her pathetic downfall, but it lacked any sense of the absurdist comedy inherent in Ayckbourn's writing. Act III suffers due to this more serious interpretation.

Mr. Belanger offers a complete character, very well played and most entertaining. His accent, though mild, is consistent and his timing, impeccable. He is always believable.

The evening, however, belongs to Gail M. Phannueff. As Eva, she exhibits certain neurotic tendencies in Act I which manifest themselves hilariously in Act II. It is here, when she attempts suicide, that Ms. Phannueff pulls out all the stops. She is a marvelous physicial commedienne. Her instinctive gifts for timing and mime recall Carole Lombard and Jean Arthur. She is also a very attractive presence. Her Eva attempts no less than five methods of self-inflicted death, all unsuccessful due to the inadvertent interruptions of the other characters. Should she so choose, Ms.

Phanneuff has a definite future in show business.

Steven H. Doherty, as Eva's husband Geoffrey, has a remarkable challenge in Act II, when he delivers a monologue to Eva. Here, he rationalizes his philandering nature while Eva suffers in silence. His gesturing was occasionally sloppy, but he did create the distraught husband of a woman who lived to die. Doherty held his own faced with the formidable talents of Ms. Phannueff.

Direction by Angus Bailey was uneven in this venture. Ayckbourn's work demands a crispness that was lacking, but it served well to showcase the talents of Mr. Belanger and Ms. Phannueff.
